“ My heart aches with the loss of Dean (and Mary). During my college and young adult years they we like parents to me, and more. Dean was a close friend and mentor. When life presented struggles, Dean provided support. We would spend hours discussing the scriptures at many a local restaurant. He was the photographer at my wedding, a friend when I need counsel, and he helped carry my cross (literally). He is better off in heaven, but we all lost a true hero of the faith. God be with you my friend.
